

COUNCIL on
FOREIGN RELATIONS

1777 F Street, NW, Washington, DC 20006
tel 202.509.8400 fax 202.509.8490 www.cfr.org

The Korea Studies Program presents a meeting of the Korea Roundtable Series on:

Keeping Northeast Asia Abnormal: The U.S. Alliance System and the Rise of China

Chaibong Hahm

Director, The Asan Institute for Policy Studies

Scott A. Snyder

Adjunct Senior Fellow for Korea Studies, Council on Foreign Relations

Presiding

Wednesday, March 2, 2011

12:00 -12:30 p.m. Lunch Reception

12:30 -1:30 p.m. Meeting

at

Council on Foreign Relations

1777 F Street, NW

Washington, DC 20006

Against the backdrop of indications that China may increasingly challenge aspects of the U.S.-led security system that has guaranteed Asian stability since the end of World War II, Dr. Chaibong Hahm, director of the Asan Institute for Policy Studies, will provide a Korean view of the implications of China's rise for the U.S.-ROK alliance and security in East Asia.

To attend, please contact Sophia Yang at 202.509.8449, or by email at syang@cfr.org.

This invitation is not transferable.